

Unfinished Stories - Life Group Questions

1. When you look around what is it that breaks your heart? Where do you experience a sense of holy discontent? How can you step into that?
2. Pastor Dan stated that we often get our areas of content/discontent mixed up. We become content when we should not be and discontent when we should be content. Where have you found that to be true in your life?
3. Pastor Dan talked about the reality of false finish lines. We can't finish well if we settle for false finish lines. Are there areas of your life where you are allowing yourself to stop running hard (praying, loving, serving, reaching out, etc) because you've allowed yourself to buy into a false finish line?
4. We also heard that too often we hold the grace of God close to ourselves while launching truth like a weapon at those around us. Where have you been slow to extend grace to others?

Front Yard Mission Questions:

1. What are the finish lines that you have in mind regarding your FYM? Do you believe that those are the same finish lines that God has for your FYM?
2. How can you be intentional to be living proof of a loving God for a neighbor this week?
