LifeGroup Questions

Who is My Neighbor?

1. Stac talked about the importance of asking the right questions. What's the best question you've ever asked/been asked?
2. Why is your heart attitude so important in the quest to be a good neighbor? How does your attitude affect the way you neighbor? What effect should the transformative power of Jesus have on our hearts, and how does that play out in our neighborhoods?
3. Stac said that it's not all about you, that your neighbors deserve to be loved even if they're not at all like you. Is that true, and if so, why?
4. From Luke 10:33-35...what are the marks of a Good Samaritan, and how is the life of a good neighbor supposed to reflect this? What is Jesus really getting after when he tells this story? Is he making a list or giving us principles?
5. Stac said that being a good neighbor will cost you. Have you seen this to be true? When have you had to call on others to sacrifice to be your good neighbor?
6. "Being a good neighbor pushes back on the parts of you that even you don't like." Agree or disagree? Where have you felt the rub of being a good neighbor, and what parts of your habits, beliefs, or lifestyle felt the pinch?
7. Is the bar of being a good neighbor low in your neighborhood? What could you do this week/season to start the ball rolling on being a good neighbor and letting the people you live around know that you love them?
8. Have you signed up to join the #frontyardmission movement? Have you investigated blesseveryhome.com?
